LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Convention.

The Sabbath School Association convention of the United Brethren church is in session at Boody and will close on Thursday. Rev. J. A. F. King, of Decatur, delivered the sermon last night. The topics for discussion are, "Sunday School Teaching: its Nature and Object," by D. O. Giffin; "Reviews; Shall we Have Them and How Conducted," by Rev. Samuel Welsch; "House Visitation," by C. C. Osborne; "Our Literature; Shall it be Denominational?" by Rev. M. Predmore; "What Constitutes the Life of a Sunday School," by Rev. J. H. Crowder; "How Shall we make our Conventions of Practical Benefit to the Church?" by Rev. H. W. Trueblood. Rev. J. M. Stevenson will conduct the children's meeting and there will be a love feast Thursday night.

Police Cases.

In Justice Curtis' court Douglas Mullens was placed under $20 bonds yesterday to keep the peace for 30 days. He had struck his wife in the face and had pinched her arm until it was discolored, so testified Mrs. Mullens. John Dipper went on the bond and Doug was allowed to depart.

Thomas Brooks, who was charged with abusing the family of Thomas Simons, east of Decatur, was fined $15 by Justice Curtis.

The same Justice fined Peter Sells $3 for assaulting W. S. Olds.

Two Notes from Champaign.

One day last week a box was received from Leeds, England, by the Cordage company, at Champaign, containing a polisher. When it was opened it was found to contain, besides the machine, a cat in an emaciated condition. The animal had strength enough to jump out, and after remaining around the cordage factory for a few days left for more quiet quarters around the old sugar factory. The box was six weeks on the way, but how long the cat had been in the box before it started is not known.

At Champaign Harry Muns, a lad 14 years of age, was on the show grounds looking at the elephant when the keeper of the animal commanded him to move on. Harry refused, when the man became enraged and threw his prod at the boy, striking him in the foot near the instep, the blade going clear through the foot. The boy had to be carried home and an attempt was made to secure the arrest of the brutal keeper, but without avail.

ENCOURAGED by the proposed tin-plate tariff in the McKinley bill, J. Davis Lewis, formerly a tin-plate manufacturer of Wales, has formed a company which will spend $500,000 on the erection of a tin-plate mill near Pittsburg should the bill pass. A previous effort to manufacture tin-plate in Pittsburg was killed by the English manufacturers, who reduced the price of the plates 25 per cent. till the works were closed, and then raised the price enough to cover the temporary loss.

HOW IT IS DONE.

A Chapter on Decatur Street Paving in 1890.

Six years ago the first brick-paving was done in Decatur, and since then this commendable public improvement has steadily extended until we have 10 miles of as good paved streets as can be found in the country—a fact that is at once admitted by the delegations that have visited us on tours of inspection. Inquiries frequently come to the REPUBLICAN, to the brick-makers and merchants, asking for a full explanation of the character of the brick, the mode of making them, and the manner in which they are laid in the street.

These inquiries cannot be answered briefly. It is now known that brick for street paving is no longer an experiment. Scores of cities in the United States now use nothing else. In some cities brick have been used for nearly twenty years and the paving, with little repair, promises to last as long again. Decatur, Ill., was one of the first cities to adopt brick exclusively for street paving, and now has about ten miles of paved streets, with many blocks under contract. The purpose is to push the work as fast as the finances will permit until the entire city is paved. Decatur has gone through the experimental process, trying brick of various makes, and her experience is a valuable guide to cities contemplating paving with brick. Sand brick, machine brick from up-draught kilns, brick made from shale and various kinds of clay were used. The Decatur Tile Company was the pioneer in making paving brick from the common yellow joint clay, using the down-draft tile ovens or kilns. After much expensive experimenting the company produced a vitrified brick, almost impervious to water and equal to granite in wear. By the baking process the surface is glazed and the inside is rendered flint-like to the center. The brick rings like metal, and brittleness, which characterizes "hard burned brick" from up-draught kilns, is avoided. The test in Decatur demonstrated the vast superiority of the Tile Company brick over all others, and in 1889 all ordinances for paving specified "down draught" brick. Nothing else can now be used. The first experimental block of Tile Company brick was laid by John Grass, contractor, on South Water street, Decatur, in May, 1885, under a guaranty for five years. Not a dollar of repairs has been required, though exposed continuously to the heaviest traffic. The paving is as smooth as a floor, and a guaranty of twenty years would have been safe.

In 1886 four specimens of Tile Company brick, picked up at random, were tested by the Chicago Forge and Bolt Company, showing the ultimate crushing resistances of the samples to be 252,000, 228,000, 210,000, and 318,000 pounds respectively. The brick measured 7¼x2¼x4 inches. The method in Decatur for paving is to bring the earth foundation to a proper grade, the last three inches of grading being finished with the pick and shovel. The surface is then rolled, using a six to ten ton rollers. Over this surface is spread four inches of gravel, or sand and gravel, carefully tamped. A course of hard brick is then laid flat, lengthwise with the street, also tamped; on this course is spread an inch and a half of screened sand, ganged and properly smoothed off. On this is laid the top course of extra hard brick on edge, crosswise with the street. Care is taken to break joints in each course. The top course is also tamped. In tamping, a two-inch plank is laid on the brick and a forty-pound rammer in the hands of two stout men is used. Experience taught the superiority of tamping over using a roller. After being thoroughly tamped so as to secure a smooth surface, the screened sand is spread and swept into the crevices, an inch of sand being left on the top after throwing the paving open to travel.

To secure the best results and protect the paving in its life and even surface, the street should be drained by laying drain tile at each side, outside the curbing. Horses do not slip or fall on brick pavements as they do on granite blocks, owing to the small surface between the same. The advantages of brick paving are: 1st, Economy in construction. 2d, Smoothness of surface. 3d, Noiseless almost as wood. 4th, No slipping by horses. 5th, Freedom from all impurities. 6th, Durability next, if not equal, to granite. 7th, Economy and convenience in repairs.

DODDS' CATARRH CURE.

LOCAL AND INTERNAL TREATMENT.

In order to cure catarrh it is necessary to allay the inflammation of the irritated membranes with a soothing application, cleanse the head of the plugging mucous secretions, and heal the discharging ulcers. For cold in the head and nasal catarrh Dodds' local treatment does this without the aid of snuff, douches or fumes. If the disease has extended downwards, affecting the bronchial tubes or lungs, digestion and blood, the internal treatment both removes from the system the scattered poison, and by its building-up properties assists nature in restoring the impaired parts. Send for our book treating on catarrh. FOSTER, MILBURN & Co., proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y.

THIS is all the Danville News had to say about the runaway marriage at which 'Squire Curtis officiated. "Mr. Ernest English and Miss Bertie Adbill, both of this city, were married in Decatur Sunday afternoon. There was no opposition by any of the relatives and the only reason that can be assigned for the young folks going to Decatur to be married is that they desired a little romance."

AN $8000 COOLER.

Decatur Has Another Big Institution in Sight.

While in Chicago yesterday Attorney John A. Brown met John Zellar who is in the employ of Nelson Morris, the Chicago packer, who is one of "The Big Four" in the packing interests. Mr. Zellar has charge of the cooling department for Mr. Morris, and visits all sections of the country. In the near future it is the purpose of the Chicago firm to erect a cooling building in Decatur near the ice factory, to cost $8000, and as soon as Mr. Zellar can get time he will come to Decatur to arrange for the improvement. The cooling building will be used as storage for Chicago dressed beef to be sold here and to parties in this section of the state.

THE George W. Budd fish market affairs appear to be badly mixed since Mrs. Alice E. McWade quit business. Budd sold the place to the lady for $100, taking $25 in cash and the balance in notes. He is at Altamont, Ill. Budd has received notice that Mrs. McWade has thrown up the business, and she has told him plainly that she was deceived as to the amount of business that could be done. Attorney John H. McCoy is looking after Budd's interests. The attorney would like to get $75 out of the assets, but they are not worth more than $25. Two second-hand men had McCoy corralled this morning, and both made an effort to get the outfit for $5.00.

Inspection.

To-morrow night at Post Hall, Col. I. C. Pugh Camp, No. 11, Sons of Veterans, will be inspected by Col. Geo. B. Stadden, of Springfield, Commander of the Illinois Division. The visitation is anticipated with pleasure by the members of the Camp who will be out in full force.

IT will be necessary for the Christian church people to raise about $3000 in cash before they can make a change of location. They can sell the old lot for $1000, but it will take $500 more to buy the Michael Eichinger lot, which is held at $4500. It will cost considerable to move the old church, and then it will take money to enlarge it and make other improvements. The committee will probably raise $3000 before a move is made.

Attempted Jail Break.

Will Live in Chicago.

Mr. Ed. C. Bassey, who has lived in Decatur for a period of 22 years, has arranged to remove to Chicago with his family, where he has purchased the Western Woolen Mill property, the personal management of which plant he will assume next week. The plant is at 43, 45, 47 and 49 South Canal street, has twenty-five knitting machines and 30 operatives. The enterprise is the manufacture of yarn from raw wool, and as it is an established business with large patronage, Mr. Bassey is assured of profitable returns at once. He will leave for Chicago to-morrow night, and his family will follow in June. It is with regret that Mr. Bassey leaves Decatur, where he has lived so long, and where he has so many personal friends in business and in the various societies with which he is connected. We are sorry to have him go away, but rejoice in the bright prospect before him. May a full measure of success attend him.

Among the many gifts bestowed was a gold watch and chain from the parents of Miss Flora. The parlor was brightly illuminated by 18 wax candles, signifying the age of the young lady. The Jury May Not Agree.

It is possible that the jury in the W. P. Corbin murder case that has been on trial at Sullivan for several days will not agree upon a verdict. The jury took the case last evening and when last heard from had not been able to agree. This forenoon the jury stood 7 to 5, but whether the majority were favorable to the defendant could not be ascertained. Corbin is the man who killed Charles Harris at Sullivan a few years ago. He was tried once for the murder and got a sentence of 15 years, part of which sentence he has served in the Chester penitentiary. The supreme court gave him a new trial on the ground of error in the ruling of the trial judge at the first hearing.

Think Well of Decatur.

The Evansville mayor and aldermen, who visited Decatur recently to look at our paved streets, have been heard from. Their opinion is voiced by the editor of the Evansville Tribune, who was with the party, and publishes a long article on Peoria and Decatur in his paper. He says:

At Decatur there are about ten miles of brick streets, which have been in use, some of them, since 1871, and have cost hardly anything for repairs. They make their streets with four inches of gravel, then a layer of soft brick, laid flat, then a two inches of sand, and on top of this hard burned common brick set edgewise and the interstices filled with distilled coal tar. The streets are found in their praise of them, and say they are the best streets in the world. They have a street sweeper in Decatur, but rarely use it because there is no need of it.

In the two visit to these two cities has been a revelation of my opinion. I went slightly prejudiced against brick, but in view of what I saw in both cities, and the honest and straightforward information so cheerfully accorded me, and the fact that both cities are still improving with brick, I am willing to be recorded in favor of brick, if we can get it down at a reasonable cost.

The editor adds that the debt of Evansville is $2,181,000, while that of Peoria is $219,000. Evansville collects by taxation over $600,000; Peoria, $300,000.

Attorney John A. Brown, who has been at Chicago, Milwaukee and Minneapolis with Judge Smith for over a week, returned home this morning. Speaking of Minneapolis he said: "The crossing question has at last been settled in the interest of the city, and the railroads will spend $1,250,000 in putting their net work of tracks under the streets so that the streets can be bridged. Consequently the value of all city property heretofore depreciated has increased wonderfully. The business of the Minneapolis postoffice is next to that of St. Louis, and the clearings are steadily increasing. The outlook for a big crop of wheat in Minnesota is not good."

THE Misses Wilson, who reside on Central Avenue, had a close call last evening on the Broadway crossing of the Wabash road. They were in a buggy. The horse balked as the Decatur accommodation approached, but the engineer checked the train in time to prevent a collision. The buggy was grazed, and one of the young ladies fell out of the buggy. She was but slightly bruised.

A Gay Party.

The trial of Prof. M. J. Scuffle, of Arthur, was set for yesterday at Tuscola, but he waived examination. In default of $300 bail he was lodged in the county jail. Prof. Scuffle is charged with stealing a large number of books from the schools of Tuscola and with forging certificates to teach school. From letters found in his trunk by detectives it was discovered that the gay pedagogue was engaged to be married to four different young ladies and the weddings were all set to come off during the month of June.

HOME FROM THE WEDDING

Governor Fifer and Others at the Clampett-Ewing Marriage.

Decatur guests at the marriage of Rev. F. W. Clampett and Miss Nellie Ewing, second daughter of Hon. and Mrs. J. S. Ewing, which occurred at St. Matthews' church, Bloomington, last night, have returned home. They report the wedding as being the most elaborate affair ever witnessed in the Evergreen City. Over 1500 invitations were extended and as the bride has relatives and personal friends in Decatur the event is of local interest. Bishop Seymour officiated, assisted by Dr. Lewis. The Lohengrin wedding march was played by Arthur Bassett.

The dress of the bride, in which she looked her fairest, was white crepe de chene with a long train enveloped in the fleecy folds of her veil of mousseline de soie. She wore no flowers or jewels and carried a white prayer-book in her hands. Her traveling dress was of green henrietta cloth. The maid of honor, Miss Clara Ewing, sister of the bride, wore sea-green silk and white lace with blues-of-the-valley.

There were six bridesmaids, all young friends of the bride. Miss Fanny Ewing, Miss Mary Lloyd and Miss Alice Lefling-well, of Knoxville, wore similar dresses of pink silk; Miss Mary Scorel, of Chicago, Miss Lottie McLean and Miss Laura McCurdy, of Bloomington, wore white crepe. Great bunches of pink and white roses were carried by each.

Mr. M. Portens, of Cairo, was the groom's best man and the ushers at the church were Messrs. Lister Wymond, J. F. Wight, Wm. Marmon, Melvin Dodson Frank Lufkin and Lucius Winchester, of Chicago.

The Pantagraph says: Among the guests from abroad were: Gov. and Mrs. Fifer, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ewing, Misses Mary and Ruth Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Ewing, Misses Marjorie and Annette Ewing, Mr. George Twose, Mr. Eugene Cox, Mr. L. Winchester, Misses Polly Slater and Mattie Hall, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ewing, Marion Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Powers, Annabel Powers, Lucille Durfee, Mr. Edward Powers, Cyrus Randolph, Senator W. C. Johns, Mr. Frank Curtis, of Decatur; Frank Lufkin, of Olathe, Kas., and the groom's brother, Mr. R. D. Clampett, of Dodge City, Kas.

Rev. Clampett and bride left at midnight for Chicago and New York. On Saturday they will sail for England for a tour of Europe. They will visit the groom's father at Southport, England, and after their tour will return to Springfield, Ill., in September, where the groom is rector of Christ church.

THE new Congregational church is progressing finely at the corner of Eldorado and Church streets. It is built partly of stone and the style of architecture is new in Decatur.

A SAD MISHAP

Accidental Death of a Little Boy in a Cistern.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen G. Washburn, was accidentally drowned in a cistern at the John Beatty place, east of Macon, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Washburn and her two little children, a boy and a girl, had gone from Macon to spend the day with Mrs. Beatty. The children were playing in the yard, when suddenly the little boy, not quite three years old, disappeared. He could not be found anywhere, until the two ladies looked into the cistern, the top of which was partly covered by loose boards. The body was found in the cistern into which the boy had accidentally fallen and found death in three feet of water. Mrs. Washburn was nearly frantic with grief as the lifeless form of her darling boy was removed from the cistern. Both ladies did everything possible to restore life, without success. Then the body was brought to Macon in a buggy, but the physician visited could do nothing.

Coroner Bendure has not been notified and probably an inquest will not be held.

Memorial Day.

Yesterday Comrades F. L. Hays and F. M. Moore and B. O. McReynolds called upon citizens to raise a fund to meet the expenses of a fitting observance of Memorial Day in Decatur on May 30th. They met with warm welcome and generous contributions, showing that patriotism is not dead yet by a long shot.

The children of the public schools will probably provide a large portion of the flowers, and the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps and Sons of Veterans will see that the fragrant tributes are properly bestowed.

Bring flowers to strew again,
With fragrant purple rain
Of lilacs and of roses white and red,
The dwellings of our dead—our glorious dead!
Let the bells ring a solemn funeral chime,
And wild war-music bring anew the time
When they who sleep beneath
Were full of vigorous breath,
And in their busy manhood sallied forth.

LAST night Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meredith, at 833 North Clinton street, gave a merry dancing party in honor of their guests, John Meredith, of Indianapolis, and John Foory, of Chicago, both railway officials. Visiting guests were Miss Leonard and Miss Shaughnessy, of Ivesdale, and Miss Hooker, of Springfield. Prof. Kepley's orchestra was present.

FAITHFUL.

It is something sweet, when the world goes ill,
To know you are faithful and love me still,
To feel when the sunshine has left the skies
That the light is shining in your dear eyes,
Beautiful eyes, more dear to me
Than all the wealth of the world could be.

It is something dearest, to feel you near
When life with its sorrows seems hard to bear;
I feel when I falter the clasp divine
Of your tender and trusting hand in mine,
Faithful hand more dear to me
Than the tenderest things of earth could be.

Sometimes dearest the world goes wrong,
Fortune gives grief with his gift of song
Hopes fly away but your love is more
To me than riches and golden store
Faithful love, until death shall part
It is mine as you are my own sweetheart.

—F. L. Stanton

Calculating the Rainfall

The quantity of rain falling at any place is estimated by means of a very simple piece of apparatus known as a rain gauge. The most common form of rain gauge consists of a tin funnel, the area of the mouth of which is accurately known. The rain collected in this funnel is then poured into a graduated measure, which can very easily be constructed by simply cutting off the small glass tumbler or bottle just below the point where the sides begin to curve inwards. The measure is then carefully marked off into inches, half inches, quarters, eighths and tenths of inches, tenths and twentieths. Supposing that the area of the mouth of the receiving funnel is five times that of the graduated measure, then each depth of one inch in the measure will represent a depth of one inch in an area equal to that of the aperture of the funnel.—New York Telegram

Politeness in New York

I found the other day on a delightful country person who came to New York as the guest of a son who is successful in business here. The old gentleman is hearty, jovial alone after the first two hours he said it wrung his heart almost to hear the tales of woe the beggars poured into his ears. He could no more say no to a beggar inside than you or I could steal a child and yet he only saved at the pain their stories gave him and at his inability to relieve them by all the money. When the rampant novelty wore off at his sleeves and left Here you evening paper! he fell over with studied politeness and Thanks, sir! You've got a lovely, thank you! Jimmy How the little ruffians stand it at that!—Julian Hawthorne

Pompeiians Liked Roast Pig.

The citizens of ancient Pompeii knew what was good. They relished roast pig. A family in that aristocratic city, one of the F. F. P's, perhaps, were about to dine on the rich and succulent dish on the very day that the restless Titan under Mount Vesuvius expectorated from his fiery lungs the shower of red hot ashes which entombed the Pompeiians in their dwellings. The pig was being cooked, and was probably nearly done at the time, when the volcanic storm burst in and spoiled it.

This is not a matter of conjecture, for a mass of indurated lava and ashes has been found in a stew pan standing on a cooking stove in the kitchen of a disinterred house. And on opening the lump a perfect mold of a sucking porker was disclosed. A cast was taken of the hollow and the result was a fine smile in plaster of the little animal which had been trussed in a [illegible] style, and is supposed from the shape of the matrix to have been just ready for the table.—Chicago Herald.

Zola's Opinions

Germans Socialists are the most determined. My books are all written in pity for I have carefully studied the miseries of miners, the miseries of all workmen. The revolution of 1789 had nothing for the working classes. I mean the ouvriers. The peasant triumphed but the ouvriers lost privileges they had formerly enjoyed. It is to be hoped that this social transformation will come without bloodshed, for otherwise what may occur I know not.—Paris Letter.

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. Throughout nearly it proves a priceless blessing of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockways Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and dyspepsia made my life a burden and come near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold misery. I was reduced almost to a skeleton and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians gave me up, without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do me any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could eat in my condition, my appetite began to return, and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken. My strength improved each day, and after a few months' faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman able to attend to all household duties. The income has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot think it too much."

We, the undersigned citizens of Dryden, Lenawee County, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular, and entitled to full credence.—O. P. Chamberlain, C. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

Mr. Trotter, in England, was for a long time unable to attend to his business, suffering from sores on his feet. He took Ayer's Almanac, and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while he was cured, and is now well, strong, and willing in a sugar mill at Bundaberg, Queensland, Australia.—A. Mitchell, St. Albot Lake, Ontario.
